RECRUITS ROLL IN

There's a Rush to Get Into Company E Now.

BIG LIST IS SWORN IN

The Machine Gun Company is at Full War Strength Now.

As the hours until the time that Hutchinson's soldier boys take the train to Fort Riley, and then to the Mexican border, dwindle, there is a rush to get into Company E. The machine gun company is at full war strength, today, but recruits are being enlisted at the office at 416½ North Main street.

Company E's Recruits.

The new enlistments in Company E since the president called out the Kansas National Guard, are:

The men who have enlisted in the machine gun company since the president's call are:

Alfred Massoni, 18, single, Hutchinson.

Harry Harsha, 21, single, son of Mrs. J. P. Harsha, 207 Avenue A east.

Recruiting Party to Stay.

It is probable that the recruiting party, consisting of First Lieutenant Durward J. Wilson, Sergeant Clarence Mather, and two privates, will be left behind by Company E, and more recruits will be taken and then sent on to Fort Riley.

STRAY PICKET SHOTS.

The Santa Fe men who are in the Guard will have their jobs held for them until they return from "the war," A bulletin to this effect was issued by General Manager Fred C. Fox yesterday. There is only one Santa Fe man in the Hutchinson company.

Lieutenant Charles S. Evans, who in private life is county health officer, and who is on the medical staff of the National Guard, was presented with a nice military toilet set yesterday by the officials and attaches at the county court house.

Captain Charles Gibbons, commander of the machine gun company, and Sergeant Ezra Wilson, of the same company, both live in Nickerson. Last night they were called to a meeting of the Community association there, and presented with bouquets, miniature flags, and testaments.

At a meeting of the Knights of Pythias last night, it was voted to pay all dues and assessments of the local Knights who have been called to the colors. An official lapel button of solid gold was presented to each of the members of the other who are also members of the Militia or the Machine Gun company.

A full month's pay and the assurance that their jobs will be kept for them until they return, is the inducement being offered by the Bell Telephone company to its employes to join the colors. Many of the employes are already members of the K. N. G., or the Machine Gun company and they are offered the same conditions.

Lieutenant Fay Prickett is expected home any day now from West Point. He is now a second lieutenant in the regular army, having graduated with his class this spring. He will soon be assigned to duty. It is expected, with some regiment on the border. He will have a short furlough visit at home. He is a son of Mrs. D. Prickett, of Tenth avenue east.

The Great Bend company received two recruits yesterday from Deerfield, Kearney county. They sent in their applications by wire. Two others at Garden City wired asking to be taken and another came from Ness City to enlist.

Arb Richards, who is night engineer at a mill in Lyons, belongs to the machine gun company here, and he was called to duty by telegram.

George Little, formerly first sergeant of Company E, is now located at Caldon, Col. He is deeply interested in what his old company is doing, and he writes The News to subscribe, so he can keep posted.

Hutchinson's soldier boys enjoyed themselves at the Ion Tea bakery last night, where Mr. and Mrs. Ed Poehler were the hosts to all of the guardsmen and ice cream and cakes were served. The place was decorated appropriately, and there was "America First" frosted on the mirrors. The walls were hung with flags, and the ice cream was served in red, white and blue colors. Captain Fred L. Lemmon received from The News a bulletin on the fight at Carrizal, Mexico, and read it to the soldiers giving the whole affair, a very military tinge.

Noon C. Beck, owner of Riverside park has invited every guardsman in Hutchinson to attend Riverside park tonight. It will be a special farewell evening for the departing soldiers, and all are invited to make it a pleasant one.

Charles D. Forby, who was chairman of the Preparedness parade committee, now ancient history, stopped Captain F. L. Lemmon on the street this morning and offered to enlist. He was surprised to find that he was just nine years too old to get into the service. The age limit in time of war is from 18 to 36 years.

Captain F. L. Lemmon says that there will be no I. W. W. members in his ranks. He stopped three huskies on the street this morning and offered to accept them as recruits. They laughed derisively and yelled: "To (a certain hot place) with that idea."

Several members of Company E have come from long distances to join the local organization, but J. G. Dawson, a former member of the company, is going to have the record. He telegraphed to Captain Lemon from Salt Lake City. "Keep my place open until I get there. I'm on my way to join the company." He is enroute now.

The Knights of Pythias lodge has already helped the guardsmen who are members. Paid up receipts have been issued to all members, to cover the full time of any service they may be. The guardsmen may be called upon to render. Sergeant Willie Deshirer, and Fay Brown, of Company E, and George Middlehurst, of the machine gun company, have been given these receipts. The lodge also gave each man a gold button, on one side of which is the coat of arms of the lodge. On the other is the owner's name, and the address of the lodge. These will serve as identification buttons.

Members of the Hutchinson Rotary club will be present in a body at the demonstration for the departing troops, which will be held in Convention hall tomorrow morning. The Rotarians voted today that every man should be present tomorrow to give Company E and the machine gun company a big send off. Every member of the club also voted to put up a flag at his home and his place of business, and to wear or carry a small flag tomorrow.

A feature of the appearance of the man of Company E, is that two thirds of the company, 26 girls or so, the fact that there are many new recruits, have their left breast decorated the marksmanship, of the crossed rifles signify expert rifleman, the highest rank; the Maltese cross is significant of a sharpshooter, next in rank; and the straight bar is that of marksman. Two thirds of the company are dependable shots.

Lee White, a former corporal, of Company E, re-enlisted this morning for service on the border.

Dr. Homer S. Carmichael, a dentist in the Horsburgh-Wiley building, can not go to the front, but he is doing his part by donating dental work to the members of Company E. He has fixed the teeth of several guardsmen, free of charge.

During the wait for the mobilization at Fort Riley, the new recruits of Company E are eating at the Cline cafe, and the men of the machine gun company who do not live here, at the Oxford cafe.

Over the chair in the barber shop of William Rheinhardt, 6 Sherman east, a huge American flag is draped. This chair is where Carl Schonholz, a barber, worked, up until today, when he joined Company E and will go to the border. The silk flag is a present of the proprietor, "Bill" Rheinhardt, to Schonholz.

Officers of the Kansas National Guard, of both regiments, are polling for the appointment of Brigadier General Charles I. Martin, as a brigadier general in the service on the border about to be rendered by Kansas troops. General Martin has held an administrative office, but with the Kansas troops going into active service, there is no longer any need of him serving in that capacity. So he is a soldier without a command. Those who are trying to get him a place, General Martin has a fine record as a soldier, having cut up a captain in the Spanish American war, and serving in the "Fighting Twenfieth" Kansas. He came out of the war a major. Bert S. Berry, who was in the ranks in the Twentieth Kansas, was orderly for that Captain Martin, many times, and he sings the praises of his former commander both as an officer and a gentleman.

J. W. Campbell is one of the newly enlisted recruits. He is the man who was in the hospital a few weeks ago, after an accident while at work on the Fourth avenue paving job. Several heavy sacks of cement fell on him. But he has recovered from that accident, and enlisted this morning.

IT'S ABOUT READY.

Soon Start the Trial of Husband and Wife.

Muskogee, Okla., June 22.—An noon it was announced in federal court that the state would early in the afternoon outline its case against Paul and Ida Hedley, charged with the murder of Sheriff Jake Giles, of Beaumont, Tex. The prosecution relies upon a detective and a newspaper report from Kansas City to connect Hedley with the killing upon the theory that a plan was made by the Hedley's following their arrest and preceding delivery to Sheriff Giles.

HYPHEN IS THERE BUT HE'S AN AMERICAN SOLDIER

Alfred Massoni, of German Birth, Joins the Machine Gun Company.

Alfred Massoni, an 18 year old boy, will act as a living contradiction to the report that the hyphenated American, the German-American, is not patriotic.

While his father is fighting as a colonel in the German army, Alfred Massoni will be following Captain C. S. Gibbons in the machine gun company at Hutchinson.

Massoni is of German birth. He talks with a strong German accent. Several times, when he lived at Partridge, agents for the Germany government called upon him and asked him to return to his Fatherland and fight—his father had already gone back to take command of a regiment.

"Nein, nein," said Alfred each time. "I am an American boy."

And to prove it, this morning, he became a member of the machine gun company.

Young Massoni has been working as candy maker at the Sifers candy company on South Main street.

According to one of the men of the Sifers plant, Massoni has expressed himself that if Germany should become entangled with the United States, he would go to war for this country, even though his father has a command of the Kaiser's troops.

DINNER STORIES.

Willie was a bright boy, and ready to tackle anything that would yield him a living.

He'd tried several jobs, but somehow he didn't get on, in spite of his brightness. But at last he obtained a berth in a bookseller's shop, where he seemed likely to sell.

One day a stranger entered the shop.

"Good morning," he said, in answer to Willie's bright greeting. "I want The Letters of Charles Lamb, please."

"You've made a slight mistake," smiled Willie, ignorant of the book of that name. "The notice is just around the corner, Mr. Lamb."

Young Heffron was overjoyed when Ruby Jackson promised to be his wife and presented him before the rich old father to obtain his consent.

"What do you want a wife for when you can scarcely support yourself?" quired the old gentleman cruelly. "Why, sir, my daughter wind starve."

"Well, sir," replied Heffron, with great dignity, "if you are the kind of man to let your daughter and her husband starve, I don't wish to enter the family."

The Sunday school teacher was not satisfied with Ellen's unsupported assertion that she had been christened in orthodox manner.

"How do you know you have?" she asked.

"Because I've got the marks on my arm," said Ellen.

PICTURE DEVELOPING.

How to Develop Your Pictures Out of Doors in Light.

With all outdoors as a darkroom one merely removes the film from the camera in the usual manner and by means of the transfer-box rolls the film on the reel and apron according to the directions furnished with the apparatus. The transferring-reel is then inserted in the tank. Do not forget to shove it up and down two or three times with the hook, before allowing the reel to rise above the surface of the solution in order to expel all air-bubbles.

Another important precaution is to allow development to proceed for about two minutes with the cover of the tank off, then put it on and reverse the tank end for end every three minutes. This insures even action of the developer and gives brilliancy and snap to the negatives. When development is complete, pour off the developer and fill the tank with water and pour off again, three or four times to remove all traces of developer and prevent fogging when the film is removed from the apron and display paper in daylight for fixing—Outing.

Worse Yet.

"Don't you get awfully tired of running to catch that 7:59 train every morning?" asked the city man.

"No," replied the commuter. "I don't mind that so much. What gets me sore is when I bolt my breakfast in about ten seconds flat and break all records running to the station, only to find out that the 7:59 train is half an hour late."—Pun.

THE SOLDIERS CHEERED.

When the Soldiers Wives' Fund Plan Was Announced.

A real demonstration—it was hearty enough to be called an ovation, almost—greeted Captain Fred L. Lemmon, at the Armory of Company E, when he announced yesterday afternoon, to his men, the plan to raise the "Soldiers' Wives' Fund," which was printed in The News last night. The soldiers clapped their hands and waved their hats when their commander had finished speaking.

Later, several of the enlisted men—some of them now on good salaries, but who will have to take $15 a month if they go to Mexico—saw the reporter personally and told what they thought of the plan. They said it took a weight off their minds. They were ready to go now, as the only obstacle was to be removed.

Both Captain Fred L. Lemmon and Captain C. S. Gibbons were enthusiastic over the plan as announced in last night's News.

The captain Lemmon said: "Our government needs the service of the soldiers of the Kansas National Guard, or else the president would not have called them out. These men must serve. And while away on this duty for the national government, their minds are relieved of their only worry, when they know the loved ones at home will be provided for."

Captain Gibbons said: "It is a splendid idea and will do more than anything else to relieve the minds of the young married men who are privates and non-commissioned officers, who are leaving wives and children behind."

ROTARIANS TO HELP.

A Hearty Response to the Call for the Fund.

The Rotary club at noon today, by unanimous vote, decided to get behind the Soldiers' Wives' Fund movement and give it a big boost. The members of the club as individuals, will subscribe to the fund.

N. B. Sawyer telephoned The News this morning, asking that he be placed on the roster at $5 per month. "A dollar a month isn't enough," he said. "We must raise more money than that. It isn't enough to give those soldiers' wives $15 a month. That, added to the pay their husbands will get makes but $30 a month. It isn't enough."

John S. Patton called at The News office with a dollar. "I haven't a bank account," he said, "but I want to add a dollar to this fund just the same."

"I'm glad to help out; it's a fine thing," said Will S. Thompson, as he sent in a subscription.

One lady called at The News office to say that "we should provide for 500 men to make subscriptions," she said. "Don't slight the women. We want in on this." And she left her pledge.

VOLUNTEERS ENROLLING.

Chas. Stewart Was the First to Respond to the Call.

The News has not been off the press last evening with the call for Five Hundred volunteers for the Soldiers' Wives' fund, when the first subscription came in. It was from Charles Stewart, deputy county clerk, and he used a coupon on a proof sheet before the paper was printed.

The letter had been on the street 15 minutes last evening, when a boy entered the business office of the News and left the following letter:

June 21st

"Gentlemen: Inclosed find signed blank for Soldiers' Wives' Fund. This is fine work on the part of the News. Go to it. W. H. SCHRADER."

Mr. Schrader is manager of the Curtis store. The letter contained a signed blank, clipped from The News.

Albert Platte, Telephone Operator, Escapes From Reformatory.

Albert Platte, a trusty at the Reformatory in charge of the telephone switchboard, left his place yesterday when he saw the carrier for The News delivering the evening papers to the officers' quarters.

Platte was 17 years of age. He was sent up from Crawford county on a charge of larceny from a person.

The fact that the flowers and the vegetables had to be raised in the exhibitor's own yard caused Ralph Robinson to take second prize in the flower contest. The boys are brothers.

At the luncheon at noon today, the children sat at a table of honor, and Superintendent J. O. Hall, of the city schools, sat with them.

New President in Charge.

Milton J. Firey, the new president of the Rotarians, was in charge of the meeting today, and he had his hotel decorated with American flags and with big posters advertising the national convention of Rotary clubs in Cincinnati.
