

HERE'S A COMPANY SCORING 100 PER CENT

Every Man On The Pay Roll a Former Service Man In The Army.

The Helms Electric Co., at Sherman and Washington streets, scores 100 per cent in giving the returned soldiers jobs. Every man on the payroll of that company, it is said, is a former service man.

When the roll is called on the Helms payroll captains, sergeants and buck privates respond. Here it is:

Capt. Walter W. Brown, commissioned first lieutenant at Second Officers' training school, Fort Sheridan, Ill.; commissioned captain in Depot Brigade, Camp Upton, N. Y. Special assignment to port of embarkation.

Sergeant Lewis D. White, first sergeant of Co. E, 137th Infantry, 35th division (and who has the D. S. C. for gallantry in battle.)

Sergeant Roscoe C. Massey, Aviation corps, ground work.

Sergeant Ansel E. Leslie, 110th Ammunition train, 35th division, who drove an ammunition truck through the Argonne.

Dean M. Shuler, who sold all of his belongings, - even to most of his clothes, on entering the service, and the armistice was signed three days before he was due to leave.

Floyd E. Abbott, formerly of Co. E, later lieutenant of the Home Guard,
